1877Seventeen Years
OF Progress and Prosperity.

A record that I am justly proud of, but which would have been impossible had not I had the confidence of the citizens of Wichita and the great state of Kansas.

FOR THE FUTURE

Great are my anticipations for the future, but as long as I retain your confidence I have no anxiety for their realization.

FOR THE PRESENT

I would say that I have fairly gotten into my holiday attire. The furniture and carpet markets of the world have been ransacked and now I am ready.

Great crowds are already congregating, and the unusual stir that prevails throughout my immense establishment suggests that the holiday season of 1894 is here in earnest.
